SCENTS

One of unique advantages of WAYNERR® Interior Panels is the Exclusive opportunity to immerse with premium scents.

Upon selecting the scent of your choice, the panels shall have the scents incorporated and shall keep for longer than a month.

Afterwards you can easily reinforce the scents by applying them on the panels.

It is important to note that the fragrance is well below the allergy triggers set by OSHA regulations. With a scent effect of less than one particle per million (PPM), the small particle size ensures that it falls far below the allergy threshold for most people, which is over 100 PPM.

As a responsible company, it is our duty to ensure that all of our fragrances are created in compliance with the latest IFRA Guidelines. The International Fragrance Association (IFRA) is the regulatory body of the fragrance industry worldwide, and we create and supply fragrances that are in compliance with the latest European Union Cosmetic Directive, where relevant.

All our fragrances come with Allergen Declaration Certificates that detail their makeup and confirm that they are safe to use. We can also provide the CLP (Classification, Labeling & Packaging) which advises on the safety and handling of the fragrance oil itself.

Both natural and synthetic ingredients face rigorous testing processes, based on scientific evidence and IFRA's deep understanding of how people use fragranced products.

The development of the IFRA Standards is based on a system of long-term collaboration with scientists, medical professionals, public authorities and the industry. For over half a century, IFRA have been partners with the Research Institute for Fragrance Materials (RIFM) who have pioneered work on analyzing fragrance ingredients. RIFM uses cutting-edge expertise to continually review ingredients, based on potential health or environmental effects as well as real-world insights on people's use of fragranced products.

Fragrance safety is of utmost importance and is reviewed by an independent panel of academic experts known as the Expert Panel for Fragrance Safety. They review every RIFM assessment and if they determine that an action is necessary, IFRA issues an amended standard. Our priority is the safety of fragrance materials used, and we achieve this through a dedicated science program that ensures the safety of our clients, their employees, and customers while causing minimal harm to the environment.

Our goal is to provide fragrance oils that have low or no declarable allergens. However, this has become increasingly challenging as most allergens come from natural essential oils.
